(c) It is a fact that production of iodised salt has not reached the optimum level. The main reasons for this is that many States/ Union Territories are yet to ban completely the sale of non-iodised salt. In the absence of such ban orders there is not much demand for iodised salt in these areas. This discourages the manufacturers of iodised salt to boost up their production.

The Central Government has written to all States/UT Administration, who have not so far issued notifications banning the use of non-iodised salt for edible purpose in their States/UTs, to issue such notifications without any further delay.

The Government is also prevailing upon the iodised salt manufacturers to increase their production.
